

Jacqui Nancey

London's Breastfeeding
& Newborn Parenting Course

Jacqui Nancey Newborns

Makes life with a newborn Easy

Our aim:

- To relieve parental stress
- To resolve your breastfeeding queries
- To look after the mother and her baby
- To benefit from our weekly midwifery support
- To empower First-time parents with confidence
- To relieve the loneliness mothers experience at home
- To equip the Father's with confidence in handling newborns
- To ensure your Nanny can safely look after your newborn baby

Very often, a mother with a newborn baby will blame herself or feel guilty when she struggles with breastfeeding, when her baby is restless in between feeds, cries a lot despite being demand fed, has poor weight gain, when motherhood feels like an endless chore and there seems no end to the exhausting sleepless nights!

We can Help!

Our privately run Newborn parenting course provides Breastfeeding skills and non-conflicting Parenting advice that actually works for Mums and Dads with a newborn baby.

We make life easy for you by eliminating the stress and frustration that would normally accompany the first 12 weeks of coping with a new baby on your own.

Why struggle
on your own?

What is unique about Jacqui Nancey

Jacqui Nancey Newborns is the only place in London where parents can get good practical advice on care-of-their newborn baby and consistent breastfeeding support

Founder, Jacqui Nancey is a UK qualified Midwife and has over 20 years experience as a former live-in Maternity Nurse. Jacqui has worked with families all over the world and has an impressive track record in her work with newborns. Together with Prossy Nsubuga and a team of other experienced baby professionals, we offer you non-conflicting professional advice, parent-friendly support and the Best baby care tips to understanding your baby's needs and cries on a weekly basis. We also limit our class numbers to ensure your comfort and relaxation at each session.

Mums and Dads who have done the course say.....

- They develop a network of friends and support from the group
- They can get their babies sleeping longer at night (subject to feeding patterns)
- Jacqui's breast-feeding technique is soothing and refreshingly easy
- Fathers enjoy looking after their new baby without feeling overwhelmed
